FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:
March 3, 2014

HISTORY MUSEUM OF MOBILE TO OPEN NEW COMMUNITY GALLERY DURING ARTWALK

The History Museum of Mobile is pleased to announce that it is joining the list of downtown attractions that participate in ArtWalk.

Each month, the museum will highlight a different theme in its new community gallery, adjacent to the lobby. National Women's History Month is the first theme, which begins on March 14, 2014, during ArtWalk.

The new community gallery will feature a selection of artifacts, which reflect the history of local female artists, alongside works of equally impressive contemporary artists Ardith Goodwin, Natasha Williams, Amanda Youngblood, and Megan Gulland.

"We are so pleased to participate in ArtWalk and contribute to this very popular venue," said David E. Alsobrook, PhD, Director of the History Museum of Mobile. "Downtown Mobile continues to be a vibrant destination for visitors and local residents, and ArtWalk is an essential element in our city's commitment to culture and the arts."

In addition to the new gallery, the permanent exhibits on the first floor of the History Museum will be open during Artwalk. Wine and hors d'oeuvres will be served. Admission is free.
